

Good Faith Estimate Notice

Under Section 2799B-6 of the Public Health Service Act, you have the right to receive a Good Faith Estimate, both orally and in writing, upon request, explaining the cost of your medical and mental health care.

Under the law, health care providers are required to give patients who don't have insurance or who are not using insurance an estimate of the expected charges for non-emergency healthcare services, including psychotherapy services.

You have a right to receive the Good Faith Estimate in writing at least one day before scheduling an appointment for any non-emergency medical services.

If you receive a bill that is at least $400 more than your Good Faith Estimate, you can dispute the bill. Make sure to save a copy or picture of your Good Faith Estimate.
